

PolyVision to Exhibit at the 2018 AIA Conference for Architecture

Date : 18/05/2018

PolyVision will attend the 2018 AIA Conference on Architecture with an exhibition highlighting one of the most durable and versatile products available. For uses ranging from writing surfaces to architectural cladding for tunnels, metro stations, and public spaces, CeramicSteel is a key component for building better cities. Visit us at booth 2723 and learn how CeramicSteel can become the canvas for designs that last.
